Stop being a Pakistani Agent: Shaktisinh Gohil tells Narendra Modi

Senior Gujarat Congress leader and Leader of the Opposition in Gujarat Assembly Shaktisinh Gohil has asked Gujarat Chief Minister Narendra Modi to stop being anti national and refrain from cheap rhetoric that helps Pakistan. "Please, stop embarrassing India with your anti India rhetoric aimed at gaining cheap publicity".

Strongly reacting to Mr Modi's statement wherein the Chief Minister had questioned the prevailing terror laws in India and criticised the UPA , Mr Gohil said, everyone knows that Modi will go to any level to get cheap publicity for himself. At a time when the country is reeling through a national crisis, it would be political maturity on his part to control himself and refrain from his usual cheap rhetoric.

Mr Modi had commented on January 18 in Ahmedabad "We tell Pakistan that Kasab has given the statement and consider this as evidence as everything has been done from Pakistan. We tell the US also that his statement should be considered as evidence. "What if Pakistan and the US both tell India that does your law have similar provision which accepts Kasab's statement as evidence? What can be more unfortunate?" he had wondered, while pointing out that "There is no law in our country that would consider the statement of an arrested person before a top-level police official as evidence." According to Mr Modi, the statement made by Kasab could only be considered as evidence when appropriate changes were made in the law.

Following this "anti national " stand taken by Narendra Modi the Prime Minister of Pakistan Yousof Raza Gilani in a press conference has used these remarks and has said that even Narendra Modi of Gujarat agrees to my stance that India has not given enough evidence and has given only information in case of Kasab, the lone terrorist captured alive in Mumbai terror attacks.

Gohil said that it is unfortunate that Modi is helping Pakistan instead of India. "Modi's irresponsible statements is an embarrassment for India.:", Gohil has said adding that when world trade center was attacked in the USA , we did not hear Bill Clinton criticizing George Bush but instead all the politicians in the nation stood together to face the crisis. "When India is facing the biggest crisis of terrorism, Modi should be on India's side, not Pakistan's", Gohil said.

"Please stop working like a Pakistani agent and stand by the country in time of need", Gohil had told Modi.

Mr Gohil has also requested the BJP high command to instruct Narendra Modi to stop his cheap rhetoric. "Both Advaniji and Rajnath Singh are experienced politicians who know that in this hour of crisis it is important for the nation to stand as one. At a time when India is gathering International support against Pakistan it is unfortunate that one Chief Minister of your party works against the nation's interests. I request you to take stern action against Narendra Modi and tell him to keep his mouth shut. His irresponsible utterances are an embarrassment to India", Gohil said here on Saturday saying the BJP should take strict disciplinary action against Modi for this.

Modi's cheap rhetoric in the past has even cost several innocent lives, Gohil said adding that the shadow of Gujarat genocide under Modi's stewardship is still a blot to India and now Modi is going all out to help Pakistan. "it is sheer immaturity to side Pakistan just because he wants to lash out against the ruling UPA". Gohil said.
